Web$ync II Pre-Launch Training Scheduled

Quincy Compressor is proud to announce the arrival of Web$ync II Remote Monitoring and Management package. Web$ync II is a leading-edge remote compressor control system that allows your customers to access their compressors from any networked computer.

Quincy will be hosting a Pre-Launch Training Webcast on October 28, 2009 to introduce the details of this exciting new product. All selling professionals are invited to join this call. (Please save the attached two pages, which contain the video and audio information for the web cast.)

Web$ync II will be offered in two variations: Service or Management. Web$ync II Service is a web-based remote monitoring and control system. Web$ync II Management also allows for remote control and monitoring, plus offers advanced data acquisition and logging capabilities for up to ten (10) Quincy compressors. Both versions will be offered as factory-installed options, or as field retrofits.

Web$ync II will replace the original Web$ync system offering, which will be discontinued.

These innovative software packages allow for improved maintenance through early detection and trending, which increases reliability. Be sure to discuss this exciting new technology with your customers and differentiate yourself from the competition.

Web$ync II will be available for quoting and ordering via Virtual Engineer on the day following the web cast training.
